Mr. Wathaifi pointed out that these positive results achieved by the listed companies, and the increase in their net profits during the first half of this year—despite the difficult circumstances and the economic and geopolitical challenges in the region and globally—affirm the strength, and resilience of the national economy and its ability to overcome these challenges. This performance is supported by a stable investment environment, the ongoing implementation of Economic Modernization vision projects, and positive macroeconomic indicators. These include several economic sectors achieving positive growth rates, which contributed to a rise in the GDP growth rate to 2.7% in the first quarter of this year, exceeding expectations. Additionally, inflationary pressures were contained at around 2% during the first half of the year, foreign reserves at the Central Bank rose to about USD 22 billion, and total exports increased by 9.2% over the first five months. These and other positive indicators reflect the success and effectiveness of the implemented economic, structural, and legislative reforms, enhancing optimism and confidence in achieving further positive outcomes and accomplishments on the economic front.

He also pointed out that these developments in the national economy, the performance of listed companies, and the positive indicators were reflected on the performance of the ASE, which has witnessed a positive trend and an increase in its performance indicators from the beginning of the year until the end of July 2025.
